

ZEITGEIST LIVING

LIFESTYLE BLOG WITH PASSION FOR INTERIOR

My name is Tonja Besler. I run my blog Zeitgeist Living for many years.

After my training in visual marketing, I worked as a decorator and after some time founded my own business "Zeitgeist Dekoservice". I designed shop windows, worked on fairs, in photo studios and decorated weddings and parties. A few years later I additionally opened an interior business.

After a change of residence, I focused on my biggest passion: my interior business "Zeitgeist-Living" and started selling my products online as well. During this time my first blog was created, where I reported about new products.

In the meantime I have separated from my business and live in Germany and Nice. What remained is my blog, which I have revised and relaunched for technical reasons.

On my lifestyle blog "Zeitgeist Living" I report about my passion for interior, life on the Côte d'Azur and love to recommend to my readers the things that I would also recommend to my best friend.
